

HLS COMMUNITY CONVERSATION

THIS THURSDAY

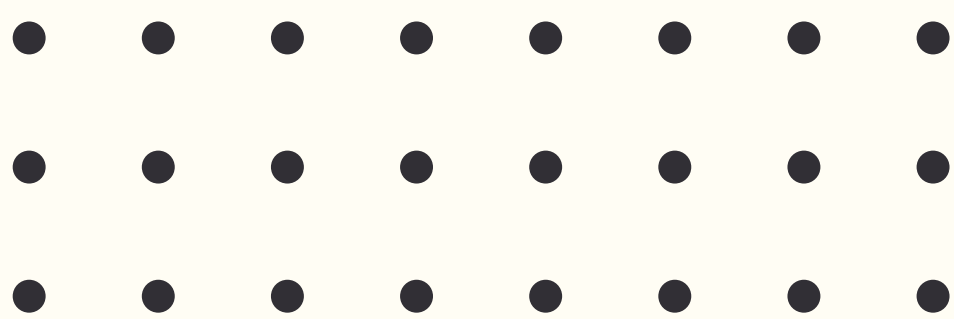

Join a group of HLS professors and administrators for an open, lightly moderated conversation with students.

Professors and staff will share thoughts and perspectives in response to student questions, concerns, and fears in these tumultuous times. They will speak not as representatives of the law school or any program, but in their individual capacities—as fellow members of the HLS community.

To guide the discussion, we invite students to share the questions and concerns they'd like to see addressed by completing the short anonymous survey by 9:00pm on Wednesday (4/9):
